

GCC Green Schools Committee set their sights on the National Finals!!

Students from GCC Green Schools took part in the semi-finals of the National Young Environmentalist competition on 19th March at the Old Water Work in Cork City. Students were required to pitch their ideas for improving our environment to a panel of judges (much like the Dragons Den). Our groups will know if they have reached the finals in the next week or so. The national finals will be held in Dublin on May 15th and based on their brilliant projects we are hopeful that we will reach the Dublin final in May!
